At a conference yesterday, it was agreed that the trustees of the New York Life Insurance Company, who were members of the finance committee during the presidential campaigns of 1896, 1900 and 1904, and were cognizant of political contributions made by the company, should reimburse the company to the extent of one hundred and forty-eight thousand dollars. TWENTY-TWO LIVES LOST IN RIO GRANDE WRECK

Two Telegraphers are Held, in Public Mind, Responsible for Disaster.

BODIES OF ONLY SEVEN OF THE VICTIMS HAVE BEEN IDENTIFIED—OPERATOR WHO IS DIRECTLY RESPONSIBLE FOR THE ACCIDENT ADMITS THAT HE WAS ASLEEP.

By Associated Press.
Pueblo, Colo., Mar. 17.—Twenty-two dead and twenty-two injured, is the best estimate obtainable of casualties in the wreck of the two Denver & Rio Grande passenger trains which collided twenty-five miles west of this city early Friday morning. Only seven dead bodies can be identified and only one of these retains sufficient outline of features to be readily recognized. The remainder are known from the fact that the location of the charred bones found were in places where they would naturally have been when the collision occurred.

Two telegraph operators are held, in the public mind, responsible for the disaster, although no formal indictment has gone out against them. Both have been ordered discharged from the service of the road. A coroner's jury has been empaneled and will begin an investigation of the cause of the accident on Monday. S. F. Lively, the operator whose failure to deliver train orders resulted in the collision has not been arrested and it is considered probable that no action against him will be taken until after the coroner's inquest.

Lively says of his failure to deliver the train order: I was asleep; that's all. It developed today that Lively, who is the regular day operator at Swallow, had, besides performing his other duties, worked Thursday night for William Van Deusen, the night operator. Van Deusen is said to have absented himself from the station without obtaining the approval of his superiors.

OFFICER BURNHAM SHOT AND KILLED NEAR UNION DEPOT

ONE OF THE JAIL BREAKERS CAUGHT

Negro Who Escaped from Vernon Jail Captured Near Chipley. Delivery Planned Two Years Ago.

Special to The Journal.
Chipley, Mar. 17.—One of the negro prisoners who made his escape from the Vernon jail early Wednesday morning, was captured about three miles north of Chipley. He made his trail an easy one to follow by again taking up his roguery and thieving before he was on his way out of the jail. He plundered Tax Assessor Wm. Bowen's house, six miles north of Vernon; from Dr. Wilson in Chipley he stole a huggy robe, and from a home just over in Jackson county he supplied himself with a hat, a pair of shoes, a pair of trousers, a coat and other articles of clothing, and some bedding. He was sent back to the county prison Friday. Sheriff Allen is still working for a clue to Bias Wilson's whereabouts, and it is hoped here that Wilson will soon be recaptured. Wilson is the negro who is charged with being an accessory before the fact, to the murder of Marshal A. M. Watson, who was shot by a prisoner held in the city jail here last fall.

Murdered in Cold Blood by Negro Whom He Had Placed Under Arrest for Fighting.

ASSASSIN ESCAPED

Bullet Passed Through Lung and Death Followed Shortly.

WOUNDED OFFICER RAN HALF A BLOCK AFTER HIS ASSAILANT, THEN FELL TO SIDEWALK AND EXPIRED WITHOUT SPEAKING.—NEGRO ARRESTED AT MIDNIGHT UPON SUSPICION OF BEING THE MURDERER.

Police Officer William B. Burnham, one of the most widely known and popular officers connected with the Pensacola police department, was shot and killed near the union depot last night at 9:15 o'clock. An unknown negro, who appeared to be a stranger here, committed the crime, and he made his escape, although followed by the wounded officer for half a block. The latter then fell to the sidewalk and expired within a few minutes.

The shooting occurred near the southeast corner of Wright and Tarzousa streets, almost in front of the saloon of W. S. Norman, and occurred at a time when large crowds of people were either in the saloon or on the streets, but no one seems to have been an eye witness to how the officer received the wound.

Negroes Were Fighting.
The negro who shot Officer Burnham and another negro named Jerry Lenox were engaged in a fight on the sidewalk near the saloon, when the stranger drew a revolver and fired two shots at Lenox. The latter ran into the bar, and just as he did so Officer Burnham ran up to place the negro doing the shooting, under arrest. The latter, it is stated, turned suddenly and fired upon the officer. The latter staggered back from the shock and as he did so the negro wheeled and fled east on Wright street. Although mortally wounded, the officer, as soon as he recovered from the shock, gave chase, and ran for half a block before his strength gave out. He was seen to stop almost in front of the residence of O. H. Smith, lean against a telephone post for a few moments and then fall face downward upon the pavement.

Died in a Few Minutes.
Several parties ran to where the officer had fallen, among them being Sheriff Van Pelt, who was north of the depot when the shots were fired. When the sheriff reached the officer, the latter moved his lips and endeavored to speak to him, but he could not utter a sound. Dr. Blocker was quickly summoned, but the officer died within a few minutes after falling to the pavement.

Entered Above Right Nipple.
The bullet from the revolver of the negro, entered just above the right nipple, and from all appearances must have severed an artery. The course of the bullet could not be traced, but appeared to have taken a downward course.

Coroner Was Summoned.
Coroner Landrum was summoned and upon reaching the scene had a jury empaneled, and the body was viewed as it lay upon the sidewalk. Afterwards it was moved to Poul's undertaking parlors and prepared for burial. The coroner's jury repaired to the office of Judge Landrum with the witnesses, where all were sworn, the names of the witnesses taken, and the jury dismissed until this morning at 8 o'clock, when the investigation by the jury will commence.

May Have Right Man.
The police and county authorities were active as soon as they reached the scene. They obtained a description of the negro from Jerry Lenox, with whom he had been fighting, and officers were given this description and told to look out for the man. Lenox did not know the name of the negro, who, he said, was a stranger, neither did any of the other negroes, who were in the saloon during the evening. It seems that for several hours the strange negro had been in the saloon and was evidently looking for trouble, as he endeavored to pick a quarrel with a number of negroes at the bar. Shortly before 12 o'clock the officers located a negro at the depot that answered the description in every particular. He was arrested, and sent to jail, where he gave his name as Robin Boykins, and stated that he was employed at the cotton
